

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Mr. Peabody at the Maryland Institute.—In addition to previous demonstrations of respect to Mr. George Peabody, the magnificent building erected at the hall of the Maryland Institute in Baltimore, to the success of which, in its infancy, he had liberally contributed. Not less than five thousand persons were present, and the honored guest was welcomed with the honors by the Hon. Joshua Vansant, President of the Institute.

Mr. Peabody replied in appropriate terms, and was also addressed in a cordial welcome by the Mayor of the city, Thomas Swann, Esq. The general reception was attended by a banquet, made up of every delicacy, and in a profusion suitable to the occasion. Here speeches, toasts, and wit, abounded; and, after the honored guest had retired, the scenes were repeated until a late hour. The guests were proper spirits. Speeches and sentiments were made and offered by C. F. Mayer, Esq., Mr. Vansant, Mr. William H. Keigler, Mr. Swann, Mr. W. H. Young, Mr. Kimmel, and others, and by the Mayor, Mr. Peabody, and the President of the Institute. The guests were very timely salutes of wit did credit to his profession.

MARYLAND LOSERS FOR JANUARY.—The New York Courier publishes a list of the vessels reported to be totally lost during the month of January, which shows a total of one hundred and thirty-one vessels, of which, twenty-four were of the foreign trade, thirty-two, fifty-nine schooners, and two sloops. The Courier says:

"The total value of the property lost was three millions seven hundred and thirty-four thousand dollars. This was all the loss of the vessels of partial loss of cargo, and damaged vessels not amounting to a total loss, which, at an estimate, would be likely to increase the figures to something near five million dollars. We do not think that there has ever before been so large an amount of loss reported in a single month. The vessels reported in this list are chiefly American, although some foreign are included, when bound to or from a United States port, or known to be insured in United States companies. The vessels insured abroad or at home, and what proportion falls on owners, it is impossible to estimate with anything like accuracy."

"The number of lives actually reported to be lost in the ships of the month of January, the vessels reported to be 'missing,' in regard to which all hope is abandoned, it swells the total to three hundred and eighty-three—a fearful sacrifice of human life to the pursuits of commerce."

"The large marine losses of the last few months are attributable in no small degree to the increased tonnage of the ships built of late years. This augmented capacity renders them, by the disproportion to their strength, less fit to withstand the storms, and less capable of their liability to get aground on bars and shoals."

"The following table shows that this tonnage has more than doubled within the last forty years:

Years.	No. Vessels built.	Ax. Tonnage.
1786-'26	7,494	106
1826-'36	8,538	120
1836-'46	1,086	135
1846-'56	16,838	225

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN GEN. SCOTT AND SECRETARY DAVIS.

Washington, February 4.—The correspondence between General Scott and Secretary Davis is quite voluminous. From a hasty examination of the various documents, it appears that General Scott declined to give open and specific information to Mr. Davis, regarding the Russian troops in the Crimea, and the Russian troops who fell into their hands. The Paris Pays contradicts the report that Portugal had ceded the establishment of Goa, in Africa, to England.

The Paris Pays states that in Berlin political circles it is believed that an arrangement between Prussia and Switzerland, relative to the future condition of Neuchâtel, will be first discussed between the Cabinets of Paris and Potsdam, and that the question will only be brought before the conference when it is matured for a settlement.

The Patrie states that in view of the approaching evacuation of the Principality and the general pacification of Europe, Austria is about to make an important reduction in her army.

The Gazette de Madrid states, on authority, that there is not the slightest difference in the views of Ministers on the leading political topics of the day.

The London Standard, Connel of France at Shanghai, has concluded a commercial and religious treaty with the King of Siam.

The Russians in China—Important Privileges Recently Acquired.

By our special correspondence from St. Petersburg, of the 16th inst., we obtain important news.

It appears that Russia has obtained from the Court of Peking the privilege, that she has solicited for many years, to trade at the five ports of China open to other nations.

This favor was refused until now, upon the ground that the Chinese Government had no right to supply its treasury with so much as might be necessary to carry on its operations economically, it had no right, in laying those duties, to look to any other consideration than the satisfaction of its own treasury.

The new treaty is one of the highest importance to Russian maritime commerce, to further which, the Government of Russia has undertaken to display the greatest activity.
